The Greenwich Street Murder.

Occur of Over And Temerica.

Before Hea. Judge Edwards and Alderman Sturtevant and Pres.

Area 4.—The Court was opened at 10 'o'clock, and adjourned until half-past 11 o'clock, by which time the Matrice Atterney said he would have some prisoners ready to be arraigned.

At the re-assembling of the Court,
LOUR ME GREEN MURLIE.

The prisoner pleaded not guilty. The indictment charges him with the wiful murder of Eugene Malville, on the Elst March, by shooting him with a pisted, in Greenwich street, Fifth ward. In his examination before the Coroner he said he resides at 306 Greenwich street; that he is French; is about 28 years of age; and in assewer to the charge, he replied—'I shot him in defence of my life. I understood he was a mad man, and he wanted to kill me."

The prisoner, who sixtes he is about 28 years of age, looks to be over 46. He is a native of Martinique, West Indias. He has a dull, heavy east of countenance, and none of the vivacity of the French.

Mr. Laroque, with whem Mr. Barlow was associated for the defence of the prisoner, said it was probable that they would not be ready in this case until the latest day of this term of the Court which could be extended to them; they should have to send abroad for witnesses, and the widow of the deceased, who was an important witness for the defence, was confined to her bed and prohibited by her medical attendant from leawing it. He, Mr. Laroque, expected to be able to say in a fortnight, on the receipt of answers to letters he had sent, when he would be ready; but he would probably have to apply for a further postponement of some weeks.

The District Attorney, whilst inclined to extend all possible indulgence even in a case of such magnitude, proposed to set this trial down for Wednesday of next week. He could exercely imagine how it was necessary to send abroad for witnesses for a case which occurred in our own midst. Two witnesses for the prosecution are confined in prison one a lad about seventeen years of age, and his testi

Mr. Laroque again urved the necessity for time to procure witnesses from abroad. Mr. Giraud, the partner of the accused, did apply to bail the witnesses, because they were in his employ, and his business was suffering by their absence. It would be impossible for the defence to be ready at so, early a day as the District Attorner names.

foring by their absence. It would be impossible for the defence to be ready at so early a day as the District Attorney names.

The Court thought the proper conrect to take would be to set the trial down for Wednesday, and if cause is shown then it may be postponed; but it is further the opinion of the Court, that unless some good reason is shown for a postponement, that the trial must then proceed.

The District Attorney then moved for an order against Robert Hilton, the Coroner, to compel him to give up all papers of which he is possessed in relation to this case. In making this application, he begged to say that he attended at the inquest, and volunteered his services, which he had no reason to suppose were objectionable. On reaching the Fifth ward station house with the Coroner, they found, for the first time, that the prisoner had been arrested in the room of the widow of the deceased man. He, (the District Attorney.) sent an officer to the room to search, and the result was that he returned with a bandbes full of letters, which the District Attorney deems highly important for this investigation. He applied to the Coroner for the letters for the purpose of classifying them, and producing such as were proper, for in no instance would he allow to go beyond his own inspection such as were not necessary, but would return them to the proper parties. The Coroner has taken upon himself to select the papers, and he now moved that the Coroner be directed to hand all these papers over to the District Attorney but Mr. Hilton had informed bim that he had looked over all the letters, with the exception of two or three, and that they had no bearing on this case. The Coroner should be notified of this application.

The Court granted an order for the Coroner to show cause, returnable in the morning at 10 o'clock. Adjourned.
